

Mrs. Kearns' Class
Author's Tea
May 2009

The students shared two pieces of writing from their Animal Multi-genre Writing Project. They first researched an animal with Sally in the library. Then they chose from a list of genres that we have studied throughout the year. They took the information gained from their research and used it to produce several pieces of writing. After sharing in groups outside, the students and parents returned to the room for treats and watched a PowerPoint of pictures taken throughout the year.
